SENSIBLE CRUSTEES.

In Pioche recently, some of the pupils in the public school got it into their heads that they were not going to be subjected to the discipline of their teachers. Two of the pupils resisted correction and were sent home. Their parents raised a hue and cry and tried to get the teachers discharged. The trustees called at the school and enquired into the matter. They were sensible men and saw that the teachers were efficient instructors and had only done their duty. They therefore laid some cold principles of duty down to the other pupils and suspended the rioters until such a time as they should present an apology to the school and promise to conduct themselves thenceforward in accordance with its rules. The editor of the Record in commenting upon the above said:

"If the parents would treat their children who come to them with a complaint, the same as my father did me, they would never have any fault to find with teachers. The fact to which I refer is as follows: While attending school here some 17 years ago I came home at noon with a complaint to my father in regard to some small matter which I thought was not right. I got a hunk of the bread for coming home and he took me by the ear and marched me back to school, and told me that if I had lied about the matter or was in the wrong, he would have the teacher whip me good and after the teacher got through he would give me enough to make me behave myself in such a manner that I would have no cause to come to him any more with complaints. That was the first and last time that I had a complaint to make against a teacher."

The blame for the disturbance arising between teachers and pupils in the public schools, in 99 cases out of every 100, can be laid at the door of the parents. It is a fact which every teacher knows, that however truthful and manly a boy naturally is there is nothing that will so quickly spoil every good quality in him and make him despicable, as to have his parents allow him to bring tales home from school and take his part. The moment a boy feels himself sustained as injured innocence, then good bye to any good that may come from him till he gets that erroneous opinion out of his head.

GENERAL MILES.

Gen. Miles has won golden opinions from all sides for the wisdom and discretion he has evinced thus far in his preparations for a possible Indian outbreak. He has done all in his power to insure peace by a rigorous preparation for war, and has made at the same time, every effort to conciliate the savages by giving them extra rations and suppressing everything tending to excite them. Gen. Miles is a warrior who appreciates the horrors of war, and who believes in battle only as a last resort, when every possible means of pacification has failed. The sight of an old commander leaving the seat of a prospective war and going to the Government capital to hurry through a large appropriation to buy provisions for his enemies, is to say the least, an anomaly which army officers are not often accused of. But Gen. Miles knows what he is doing, and while, should war be precipitated, the rations will be of incalculable benefit to his enemies, there is a prospect that they may poison the Indian; that war may be avoided altogether.

It is one chance in ten, and the old Indian fighter believes that it is wisdom to bid even to this extent for peace.

Democratic English admirers like the New York Herald, that keeps standing a notice that the United States pays more for pensions than any foreign Government pays for its standing army, should take note that the Prince of Wales has drawn $16,500,000 from the public treasury on his own account, and his private debts are said to amount to about half this sum.

It is now reported that the Shipping bill will be put through the House within the next ten days. There should be no failure regarding them. They will stand no show with the next House, and unless they become laws this Winter we shall go limping along on one-legged protection and unable to make the race with our competitors in carrying our own products.

The aged Senator Hoar is over 70 years old yet he still retains the hopeful and cheerful buoyancy of spirits of early youth. He says that he sees in the result of the elections no reason for despondency or discouragement, and that the McKinley bill is based upon a principle to which the American people are unalterably attached.

The California Associated Press correspondent at Washington states that because of so much wrangling regarding the San Francisco Postoffice site, it will be acquired by condemnation, and that a site for that purpose will soon be bought. No intimation is given as to the probable site to be so condemned.

Advices from Orenburg, Eastern Russia, state that the mercury suddenly fell from 3 degrees of warmth to 30 degrees of cold. Four caravans of horses, sheep and camels and thirty Kirgizes, who were riding across the steppes, were frozen to death.

A London dispatch says there is a heavy demand for gold from New York. The first shipment is just announced, $250,000 in gold having been forwarded yesterday, and it is probable that additional parcels will be shipped next week.

Parnell's New Move.

LONDON, December 4.—Parnell is playing out his game on the lines indicated yesterday. He is forcing Gladstone's hand, and committing the entire Irish party to declarations of a policy which cannot be accepted by the English home rulers.

It was resolved this evening to form a committee, of which Parnell is a member, for opening negotiations with Mr. Gladstone. By a letter, which has already been written and sent, he is asked whether he will agree to hand over the Irish constabulary and the settlement of the land question to the home rule parliament, when established, or undertake to deal with the agrarian difficulty himself. To surrender the constabulary to an Irish parliament is an infeasible condition.

If Gladstone consents to these terms Parnell gives a kind of conditional undertaking to retire from the leadership for the present. He can safely make this offer, for if Gladstone gives up the constabulary a large section of his English supporters will raise a great outcry, and what he gains by temporarily depositing Parnell will be more than lost in another direction.

A MEMBER OF PARLIAMENT.

Aggressive Silver Men.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—A proposition for a compromise on the silver question, which is represented as emanating from the Executive Mansion, has been laid before the silver men of both Houses. This proposition is that Congress pass a bill at this time, instructing the Secretary of the Treasury to purchase $13,000,000 or $15,000,000 worth of silver, with which the market is said to be stocked at present. This proposition meets with the approval of conservative men in both Houses; but the advocates of free coinage feel so confident of their ability to put a free coinage bill through Congress at this session that they do not seem inclined to accept it.

Stanford's Government Loan Scheme.

In the Senate Friday Stanford introduced a bill to provide the Government with sufficient means to supply the National want of a sound circulating medium, and asked that it lie on the table, stating that he would hereafter make remarks upon it.

The bill is the same as introduced by him last May. It authorizes the issue of $100,000,000 in Treasury notes, to be loaned at 2 per cent. on application to citizens owning unencumbered agricultural lands, the loans not to exceed one-half of the assessed value of the land nor to extend for more than twenty years.

According to Secretary Noble, Washington pension attorneys are getting away with about $7,500,000 a year. It is about time to make arrangements to render claimants independent of these gentry.

The late storm has caused the Carson river to rise rapidly.

THE COPYRIGHT BILL.

It is Likely to Pass—Charles Scribner Talks.

Undoubtedly the Senate will pass the International Copyright bill with the House amendments, and undoubtedly the President will sign it. Then justice will be done. New York publishers, however, agree that there will be no sudden change in the situation of literary affairs.

"There will be no revolution in the publishing business," said Charles Scribner to-day. "The immediate effect of the law, assuming the bill becomes a law, will be the holding back of new works until such a time as a copyright may be had in both the countries of Great Britain and the United States.

"I have a personal knowledge of a number of important books that are being withheld. If Stanley had not been an American citizen I feel sure that his book would not have appeared next Summer. Being an American, of course he could get a copyright in this country. An English author would be debarred from that. I do not expect to see any great or noticeable change in the price of books. The day of 10 and 15 cent literature is practically over anyway. Over because publishers found that it did not pay them to turn out books at such prices. I think we shall still have the 25 cent and 50-cent novels as we have at present."

DISLIKE THEIR NEIGHBOR.

A Movement on Foot in Sing Sing to Have the Prison Removed.

An organization has been perfected at Sing Sing, which is known as "The Prison Removal Club," whose object is to remove the famous prison from the village. A bill will be introduced in the Legislature this Winter, similar to the one that got stranded last year, condemning the present institution and providing for its removal to some more suitable locality. The residents of the village claim that no new enterprises are likely to settle among them, as the suspicion abroad is that all goods sent out from the town are manufactured in the prison. If the bill does not pass the Legislature this Winter, it is understood that early in the Spring the plants of several factories will be taken away from there.

Less Conciliatory than Expected.

The Press Association says Gladstone's written reply to questions concerning the Irish constabulary and a settlement of the agrarian difficulty, indited at the request of the committee of Nationalists which visited him yesterday, was less conciliatory than the committee expected. It is reported that Gladstone refuses absolutely to enter into any negotiations regarding these questions until Parnell's retirement is an accomplished fact.

It is stated that fully $75,000 have been spent in the work of reclamation in Hoey Lake valley and that the coming Summer will see 50,000 acres of land supplied with an abundance of water. Extensive operations are now being carried on in the building of reservoirs and canals.

The Salt Lake Tribune has been sued for $15,000 damages on account of an alleged libel on Father Gaten, who went to Salt Lake and sold town lot certificates in Spokane Falls. He was said by some Catholics to be a fraud, and the Tribune mentioned this.

Pioche Record. During the week there has been quite a scarcity of hands at the smelter and those seeking employment had no difficulty in getting work. Though many idle men are in town, it appears as if they were hunting from morn till night and at the same time praying to God not to give it to them.

Probably Fatally Hurt

Enterprise. George Leidy, a teamster, was probably fatally hurt at Belleville Thursday night by being run over. He had a load of potatoes on a big wagon and was driving with a jerk-line. He got on his wheel-horse, and at that moment a steam engine whistled a note of warning, and his horse threw him off, and the team started to run away. One wheel of the wagon passed over his body, injuring him internally, it is feared.

There is no physician in Belleville, and Mr. Leidy was immediately taken to Candalaria, eight miles distant, for treatment.

An Heroic Mission.

Father Jute, a Catholic priest has undertaken and accomplished a mission to interview the Dakota Indians. He went where no one else dared to go, and has heard a recital of the Indian's grievances and arranged for a meeting between some of their chiefs and Gen. Brooke, which takes place to-day. It is thought that it may lead to a truce. The fact has been demonstrated that the principal cause of the Indian's hostile attitude is their semi-starving condition.

IDIOTS, LUNATICS, PAUPERS AND WOMEN

Oh! say to whom of all the earth,
To day of death from day of birth, You turn for love that's true, man!
To whom look you for tender care?
Who's ever quick your woes to share?
But some fond, loving woman?

In childhood's happy hours you prize A glance from mother's loving eyes, Far more than from another,
And older grown, you'll seldom find A better friend than sister kind, That fondly loves her brother

Who minds your house, who mends your clothes?
Who makes your life bloom as a rose?
And keeps you fairly human?

And who with careful thought e'er hides Your petty faults, from all besides, But some true patient woman?

And you, Creation's Lords, so grand,
On lofty height, self-placed, you stand And take all as your due, man!
And never think that credit's due To one that's proved companion, true,— This constant, helpful woman

She's not your equal, so you say, Down on your knees proud man, and pray Forgiveness from each woman If not your equal who to blame?
Who makes the laws that are a shame,
And that you yet shall rue man?

Go hide your face, in secret blush, Nor e'er again seek nonsense gush Of reverence felt for woman.
Just let me show you where you've placed The mother, sister, wife, who've graced Your life and made it true, man

She must not vote, the cares of state On her fair brow must bear no weight, She could not understand them!
And so—with idiots, paupers, cranks, Proud man, you claim that woman ranks!
In such low state you band them

Oh man! there comes a day of fate When you shall not I fear, too late, That poor, down-trodden woman Has burst the bonds that hold her fast, That triumph comes to her at last,
And as she's only human

From giddy height who'll pull you down, Nor let you longer wear the crown, She'll serve you to your doom, man,
And you in turn will find your rank With woe's pale, sallow, sly, crank, Far, far below good woman!

Advice to Mothers.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so send at once and get a bottle of Mrs.
Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhoea, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all drug gists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle. feb. 21-sw-ly

Now In Reno.

Dr. Bass, a highly accomplished and successful physician, has arrived in Reno. The doctor's experience is probably more varied and greater than any other specialist on the coast. Educated in the large hospitals of Europe he afterwards entered the United States navy, has made three trips around the world and visited many of the large hospitals. He also served under General Crook in the late Indian campaign. We advise every man or woman with an obscure obstinate or private disease to seek his advice at once. Office, Palace Hotel. The doctor's terms are most reasonable and he will remain only until the 10th inst.

A Ten Days' Session

The Silver State says Senator M. D.
Foley passed up the road yesterday, and in conversation with parties at the depot spoke favorably of the plan of having a term of the Legislature in January to be in session ten days, in which time to elect a U. S. Senator, and arrange for the time and place of holding a Constitutional Convention, and also for the appointment of delegates, then adjourn, and after the Convention thus called has performed its work, the general business of the Legislature can be transacted in a special session called by the Governor.

Accidentally Shot.

Enterprise. At Sodaville, on the line of the Carson & Colorado, Thursday night, Ed Guiliver fired a shot from a pistol at an Indian dog. The shot went through the boards of a fence and struck a Slavonian named Polloom in the right leg, inflicting a severe wound. Polloom passed through on the train last night for San Francisco to be treated.

The shot was purely accidental, and was as much deplored by Mr. Guiliver as by the wounded man.

The Underflow in Valleys.

It is found that in the valleys bordering rivers there is a large underflow of water that may be utilized in irrigation. Recently in Western Kansas an experiment was made in the valley of the Arkansas river and running a long ditch up stream until its bottom was six feet below the bed of the river a great flow of water was obtained—sufficient to irrigate 25,000 acres of land.
Here is a hint for the people of Nevada to act upon.

What greater and truer friend has humanity than the country editor? He laughs with you when you are glad, weeps with you when you are sad, and smiles at you when you are mad. He is both kind and wise and seldom lies, and if he does it creates no surprise. He has a heart as well as cheek, is possessed of spirit but yet is meek, and for all of this he lives on fifteen cents a week.

GAY COLLEGE BOYS.

Oxford Students Enjoy a Big Lark—They Celebrate a Mock High Mass.

Queen's College, Oxford, England, was lately the scene of a serious outbreak among the undergraduates. A party of sixteen young men set out in masquerading costumes, the leader being dressed as a Bishop, with a mitre and crozier and all the paraphernalia peculiar to the office. Among the others there was one nun and two acolytes with censers and incense, while the balance wore surplices. All bore a sanctimonious and highly mock-decorous look and semblance.

They marched in a procession and carried cups containing large doses of whisky and others of water. A number of biscuits concluded the dietary portion of the escapade, the whole being covered with a white cloth. The masqueraders went the rounds of the college, battering open doors and forcing their way into the bedrooms of freshmen.

When they had dragged out a sufficient number of victims they gathered them together, and, shivering in their scant night dresses, the masqueraders proceeded to celebrate high mass, and forced their victims to go through the ceremony to its smallest detail, urging them thereto with cutting blows from switches or sticks.

The victims were forced to drink quantities of whisky and gorge themselves with biscuits. Many were compelled by fear of further blows to eat and drink far beyond their comfortable capacity.

The party then broke up, but five of the participants went to the room of a fellow student who had not as yet been disturbed, and dragged him out of bed, stripped his nightshirt from him, tore it into shreds and then carried him into the court, where they tied him to a tree and left him stark naked until morning.

The outraged men, acting on the advice of some more substantial college men, applied to the authorities to redress their injuries and gave the names of the aggressors.

Wells, Fargo & Co. vs. the Lottery.

The following letter, which explains itself, has been sent out to all the express offices of Wells, Fargo, & Co.

OFFICE OF THE
VICE PRESIDENT AND GENERAL MANAGER, WELLS, FARGO & CO.
SAN FRANCISCO, NOV. 1, 1890.

To Agents: It appears from several letters received from our agents, that various devices are being adopted by lottery companies to make the express companies' agents the medium for distributing their official lists of prizes—possibly of other advertising matter connected with their business. We are to-day in receipt of a printed slip presented at one of our offices, reading as follows:

"After the drawing, call at the express office for an official list for the prizes, which will be handed to you, to your address, by the agent."

Our agent writes: "I have trouble in convincing the people that I have no list of the drawing."

This is to clearly inform you that agents or other employees of Wells, Fargo & Co. will not be permitted, knowingly, to distribute the list of prizes or other advertising matter of any lottery company. In all parties call upon you for such official lists or advertising matter, please show them this circular in reply to the inquiry.

Yours truly,
JNO. J. VALENTINE,
Vice Pres. and Gen. Mgr.

A Rich Young Minstrel Manager.

W. S. Cleveland, the busy minstrel man, is the owner of three minstrel companies, viz. W. S. Cleveland's Magnificent Minstrels, headed by Willis Sweetman and Billy Rice, W. S. Cleveland's Consolidated Minstrels, headed by Billy Emerson, Barney Fagan, Luke Schoolcraft and Hughy Dougherty, Cleveland's Colossal Colored Minstrels, which have taken in sixteen weeks over $300,000, clearing sixty odd thousand dollars. A few years ago the lucky man was an assistant agent with a buck cork band, to day he is the minstrel monopolist of the country. The organization which appears here has just completed a wonderfully successful engagement in New York. Mr. Cleveland will next season have not less than six minstrel companies on the road, all under his own management.

Cleveland's Colossal Colored Minstrels will appear at McKissick's Opera House, Wednesday Dec. 10. Box sheet is now open for reserved seats at Hodgkinson's drug store.

An Enormous Petition.

Over 200,000 signatures have been affixed to the petition addressed to the Czar of Russia regarding the Siberian exiles. There was much difficulty at first in securing names to the petition as the people, recalling the friendly attitude of Russia towards the United States during the civil war, were indisposed to endorse a document, which might be construed as an insult to the ruler of a country who had manifested a friendly spirit to their own. When, however, it was explained to them that the movement was the work of private individuals, with which this Government has nothing to do, and that during the war Alexander II, the most liberal of all the Czars, and not the present ruler occupied the Russian throne, they readily signed the document. There is some talk of starting a newspaper at Philadelphia to be devoted exclusively to Russian affairs.

A Boy's Idea of His Father.

At ten years of age a boy thinks his father knows a great deal; at fifteen he knows as much as his father, at twenty he knows twice as much; at thirty he is willing to take his advice; at forty he begins to think his father knows something after all, at fifty he begins to seek his advice, and at sixty, after his father is dead, he thinks that he was the smartest man that ever lived.

The Bones of Electioneer to Be Preserved.

The bones of the stallion Electioneer will be shipped to San Francisco, and when the skeleton is arranged will be returned to Governor Stanford's home at Mayfield to keep company with the bones of many other famous horses now there. Election-eer produced more fast trotters than any other stallion in the world. It is stated that Governor Stanford refused $100,000 for him.

False Railroad Rumors.

There is no truth in the rumor that the Central Pacific will withdraw trains Nos.
1 and 2, now passing through Reno. Superintendent Fillmore informs the Virginia & Truckee management that no change is contemplated, and that the trains will continue to run as at present scheduled.

It is stated that Dr. Koch has practically concluded the work of the discovery of a prevention for two of the most contagious diseases, and the knowledge will be given to the world early in the new year.

The exact birthplace of Oudeville, famous in connection with the little glass slipper, is not known, but the greatest story-teller in the world never alleged she was a Chicago girl.—Philadelphia Times.

WHAT IS SCROFULA

It is that impurity in the blood, which, accumulating in the glands of the neck, produces unsightly lumps or swellings; which causes painful running sores on the arms, legs, or feet; which develops ulcers in the eyes, ears, or nose, often causing blindness or deafness; which is the origin of pimples, cancerous growths, or the many other manifestations usually ascribed to "humors;" which, fastening upon the lungs, causes consumption and death. Being the most ancient, it is the most general of all diseases or affections, for very few persons are entirely free from it.

How Can
It Be CURED

By taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, which, by the remarkable cures it has accomplished, often when other medicines have failed, has proven itself to be a potent and peculiar medicine for this disease. Some of these cures are really wonderful. If you suffer from scrofula, be sure to try Hood's Sarsaparilla.
"My daughter Mary was afflicted with scrofula soreneck from the time she was 22 months old till she became six years of age. Lumps formed in her neck, and one of them after growing to the size of a pigeon's egg, became a running sore for over three years. We gave her Hood's Sarsaparilla, when the lump and all indications of scrofula entirely disappeared, and now she seems to be a healthy child." J. S. CARLISLE, Nauright, N. J.
